VICTORY IN DOBRUDJA IS WON BY GERMAN

In Endeavor to Stay the Floods of Aliens Into Hungarian Fields, Mackensen Masses Big Force in Transylvania

KOBARDJA IS HELD BY TEUTON ALLIES

Campaign for Monastir Considered of Utmost Importance to Allied Program; Formidable Bulgarian Works Taken

SALONIKI, Oct. 21.—The British fleet today bombarded the defenses of the lower Struma.

Bucharest, Oct. 21.—The offensive being pressed by the central powers in Dobrudja has forced the retirement of the Russo-Rumanian army in the center and on the left wing, the war office announced today.

Berlin, via London, Oct. 21, 4:10 p. m.—German troops have forced their way into several points of the main positions of the Russians and Rumanians south of Racheva, on the Danube. The troops of the central powers captured the village of Tuzia, after stubborn fighting, and stormed the heights northwest of Lopar, and the heights northwest of Muleova. Some 2000 Russians have been captured by the Teutonic forces.

LEOPOLD VICTORIOUS.
Russian attempts to take trenches on the west bank of the river Stokhod, in Volynia, were frustrated yesterday by troops under command of Prince Leopold of Bavaria, with heavy losses to the attackers, says the official statement. On the river Narayuvka, in Galicia, the statement says, the German troops captured positions northwest of Skomorochy, taking 150 prisoners and seven machine guns.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 21.—A great battle is raging all along the Dobrudja front, where Mackensen has taken the offensive against the Russo-Rumanians in an effort to halt the Rumanian counter-offensive in Transylvania.

Attacking in the region of Kobardja, the German-Bulgarian troops yesterday morning occupied the village and continued their attacks throughout the day. The enemy's attempts to make further advances were repelled with rifles and grenades.

CLAIM SERB DEFEATS.
SOEFA, Oct. 20, via London, Oct. 21.—The repulse of all Serbian attacks in the Cerna bend is claimed in the official statement issued by the war office today. The statement says: "Macedonian front: Desperate fighting continues in Cerna bend, the Serbians displaying particular obstinacy in their efforts to advance, but we repulse them in attacks by air and counter-attacks. Enemy attempts to advance toward Tarnova and the summit of Dobrouspolje failed. On the Struma front the enemy bombed inhabited places, including Seres."

MONASTIR OF IMPORTANCE.
LONDON, Oct. 21.—The battle for Monastir, Serbia, takes first place in the news of today in the London newspapers. The Serbians are credited with a brilliant success, having by the capture of Brod and Veljeslo, Thursday, gained a position behind the main Bulgarian front against which the entente allies made an unsuccessful attack in force last Saturday.

French Seize Square Mile at Tien-Tsin

PEKING, Oct. 21.—A square mile of territory adjoining the French concession at Tien-Tsin has been forcibly seized by the French consul, with the assistance of troops. The Chinese police were arrested and Frenchmen substituted for them. Replying to a protest from the Chinese foreign office, the French legation at Peking replied it assumed the responsibility for the action.

The district occupied by the French is thickly populated and the Chinese are threatening violence, as they have stubbornly resisted for many years annexation to the French concession and in its protest to the French legation the foreign office gave warning that it would not be responsible if violence resulted.

The Chinese press is violently assailing the action of the French, declaring that it "surpasses Japanese tactics and is a real warfare against defenseless China."

ELLERY STONE, OAKLAND MAN, WHO HAS ENTERED A TWENTIETH CENTURY FIELD F.O.B. ADVENTUROUS HOBBY, TALKS OF SEEKING THE HIDING PLACE OF THE "PHANTOM WIRELESS" PLANT THAT HAS BEEN PESTERING THE GOVERNMENT.

WEIRD QUEST LURES EXPERT INTO DESERT

Ellery Stone, Young Oakland Wireless Authority, to Set Out on Fascinating Adventure to Locate Mysterious "Calls"

As adventures as the quest of the Golden Fleece, as romantic as the search for the Blue Bird and as fantastic as the hunting of the Shark is the mission upon which Ellery Stone, 22-year-old radio expert of Oakland, assistant radio inspector of San Francisco, will set forth next Monday. He seeks something as elusive as a will-o'-the-wisp, as vagrant as the phantasmal smoke and as shifting as the center of population—yet he expects to attain his goal and win the commendation of his chiefs in the Federal service.

Disputed the location of a wireless station that has given them a quiet out of a crowd. For six months the radio operators at Los Angeles and San Diego have been persistently pestered by a phantom station that has given them a quiet out of a crowd. For six months the radio operators at Los Angeles and San Diego have been persistently pestered by a phantom station that has given them a quiet out of a crowd.

TASK IS DIFFICULT.
To establish the exact location of a wireless station by listening to its messages is as difficult as to locate a ventriloquist out of a crowd. For six months the radio operators at Los Angeles and San Diego have been persistently pestered by a phantom station that has given them a quiet out of a crowd.

IS ESTABLISHED EXPERT.
His standing in the government service is indicated by the fact that he was recently called to Seattle to testify as an expert in the suit of the Marconi company against the Federal government.

SUPERVISORS POLICE SHUN VOTEMONDAY ENFORCING OF HOSPITAL DIVINE LAWS

Welfare Commission Site Is Favored by Three Members of Board; Plan to Purchase to Be Put in a Resolution

All Members of Board Agree That Present Condition Calls for Immediate Remedy; Report of Com. Is Endorsed

From the proceedings of last Monday's meeting of the Board of Supervisors, the impression was gained that the matter of selection of a county hospital site had been settled.

Rumors and reports which arose later that a program deliberately to "sidetrack" the selection of a site for the proposed county hospital Monday were laid to rest today by statements made by members of the board. Members of the Public Welfare Commission, who after months of exhaustive investigation, recommended the purchase of the College of Oakland site at East Twenty-seventh street and Fourteenth avenue, had feared that color was given these rumors by the fact that Supervisor John Mullins had been absent from the board meeting Thursday when a vote was to have been taken.

MULLINS READY.
Supervisor Mullins said today: "I shall be at the meeting Monday morning, and I shall be there ready to cast my vote for the selection of a hospital site within the limits of the city of Oakland."

Personally, I believe that the College of Oakland site is a desirable purchase. It has been recommended by the Public Welfare Commission after careful investigation of all the available sites. The character of the men and women composing that commission gives to their recommendation authority and a freedom from any suspicion of personal interest or sectional favoritism.

But primarily, I believe that a site within the city limits of Oakland, within reasonable distance of the center of the industrial and business population, is essential, and should be selected as such. As a member of this board, and the light I have consistently made for the segregation of the hospital from the infirmary, I will support the College of Oakland site.

I will vote for any suitable site in the city of Oakland, near the center of industrial population, upon which two other members of the board of supervisors have agreed, and I will be ready to cast my vote Monday.

Supervisor Foss has expressed himself as ready to accept the recommendation of the Public Welfare Commission and vote for the College of California site.

Supervisor Heyer could not be interviewed today, as he was out of the city. His attitude on the hospital site proposition, according to his close friends, was that he favored the erection of a modern infirmary, but that if the board was determined to segregate the two institutions, he would be inclined to cast his vote for the College of California site.

At the same time of the greatest service to the largest number of people, and to his own constituency.

Supervisor Mullins had dragged along for months, and had finally been brought to an issue last Monday by the move on the part of Supervisor Foss to substitute the East Oakland property for the Gill estate in West Oakland, named in his original motion, members of the Public Welfare Commission and of the board of supervisors, which have interested themselves in the matter, have agreed to support the College of California site.

RULES CONTROL.
Action was deferred Monday until the Thursday meeting, as the rules of order of the board demanded that a resolution must be considered by a committee of the whole before it could be passed upon by the board.

But Supervisor Mullins was called to the floor yesterday, and the vote could not be taken. The board will go into session as a committee of the whole Monday morning for long enough to consider the Foss resolution for the purchase of the East Oakland site. Supervisor Foss said today.

POLICE SEEK SECRET CLINIC WOULD STOP BIRTH CONTROL MARGARET SANGER IS DEFIANT

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—"The poor, century-behind-the-times public officials of this country might just as well forget their moss-grown statutes and accept birth control as an established fact. My new national plan makes it as inevitable as night and day."

Mrs. Margaret Sanger, short and smiling, with a tinge of red in her hair and more than that in her eye, sat in her little two-by-four hotel room and said that here today. Within the last 48 hours she has established semi-secretly in this city the first out-and-out birth-control clinic in the United States, the law, a federal indictment and numerous arrests all over the country to the contrary notwithstanding. She continued:

"The police are hunting my clinic today. Then can't find it. If they should, they can't hurt it. It is an oral clinic and the law says nothing about not spreading birth control information orally. If they do try to interfere I am legally prepared to carry a hard and bitter fight to the highest tribunal in the land with the best legal talent there is."

WILL COVER COUNTRY.
"Four more secret clinics will be running in New York within a week. In less than a year there will be clinics in Washington, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Denver, St. Louis, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Portland, Seattle, Spokane and Butte. They are every one organized and ready to open the minute I say the word. Even under the most favorable physical conditions."

"This is the work the law and public officials are trying to stop."

I am willing to meet these people and discuss this. I realize that the practice of arresting women and permitting them to forfeit $25 in each case is not right. But what am I to do? Something must be done to stop these women from spreading over the city's streets in hordes. San Francisco is beginning to drive the women from the Tenderloin. Stockton may soon do the same with the advent of a new police administration. Do you know what that means? That means that Oakland gets the reputation of not hampering these women in their operations as 'street walkers.' The city's streets will be flooded with them, and disease and crime will flourish.

"CAN'T ARREST THE MEN."
"As to arresting the men, it can't be done. There is no law which will permit me to do so. These men could not be convicted, as there is no law under which they may be arrested."

Miss McColl should be better than to ask the chief of police to violate the law. For that is what she asks me to do.

"She probably means," it was suggested, "in taking some different action, if it is not you would be upholding the law of God."

The law of God, he answered, cuts no ice on the streets of Oakland and no woman to call the law of the state of California that the police must enforce.

In answer to Petersen's assertion that he cannot order the arrest of the women companions of the women charged with vagrancy, Miss McColl averred that she spoke to Judge Mortimer Smith on the matter, and was told by him that it could be done. Miss McColl explained:

Judge Smith told me that if the women were brought into court with the women of charges of vagrancy they could be fined just as the women are when found guilty. Petersen says that no person can be found guilty of vagrancy through the neglect of business offense. How about these unfortunate women? They do not even go to trial, but forfeit the men rather than to have their names appear in court and have their shame exhibited, as is that of the women?

WILL MEET DELEGATION.
In the meantime Miss McColl is preparing to ask a committee of prominent men and women to call on Petersen and discuss the matter with him. Petersen has expressed his entire willingness to meet such a committee and give the subject a thorough discussion, that the problem as it applies to Oakland may be answered for all time.

This all is the sequel to a letter which Miss McColl forwarded to Petersen yesterday. It reads, in part: "Some time ago I talked with you concerning the problem of birth control in Oakland. I am now preparing to ask a committee of prominent men and women to call on you and discuss the matter with you. I have expressed my entire willingness to meet such a committee and give the subject a thorough discussion, that the problem as it applies to Oakland may be answered for all time."

CITY TIES ENRICHED.
This money goes into the city treasury. In my experience I have never known a woman who leads this life from choice. She invariably does it because she wants food or drink. It is a desperate, desperate life. The city approaches her through a man who is himself a creature of the streets, and having arrested her, extracts money from her in the guise of a fine.

Where does she get the $25? Someone loans it to her, and to pay it back she goes back again. How infinitely revolting! If a city imagines that vice is being reduced within its limits by this method of action, it is a fool.

U. C. FRESHMEN DEFEAT NEVADA

CALIFORNIA FIELD, Oct. 21.—The Berkeley Bruin found itself facing Hugh Bezdak's gray wolves of Oregon here this afternoon with a big crowd gathered to see the most important football struggle thus far of the season. It was real "football weather," with a chill to the air and murky skies threatening rain at any minute.

California got an early chance to show what its rosters could do, for the freshmen eleven simply ran away with the Nevada sagebrushers in the preliminary football struggle. The victors were no match for Coach Elliott's husky "cubbers."

Nevada opened the first quarter with the kick-off, and the ball was carried almost immediately into Nevada territory. Toomey was sent over the line for California first and he followed with a second touchdown. The score at the end of the first quarter was California 14, Nevada 0.

The second quarter saw Strabbins of California bowl through the Nevada line for a third touchdown. This time Toomey, who had botched both of the previous goals, missed fire.

The freshmen made two forward passes in this quarter, one of these being good for a gain of thirty yards. Nevada's punting was poor in this quarter.

The Oregon varsity trotted on to the field at 3 o'clock and was given a great reception. California's team followed immediately. Both teams indulged in light practice.

There was no score in the third quarter of the freshman game. Two long runs featured, one by Root of Nevada for thirty yards, and one by Strabbins of California for fifty.

In the last quarter the California freshman machine speeded up and showed excellence in open style of play. The Oregon team fought back. Ken the Chinese quarterback, kicked the second by intercepting a forward pass and running sixty-five yards to a touchdown. Toomey kicked both goals, leaving the final score 34 to 0.

Both teams were declared to be in perfect physical condition early today, although both showed considerable nervous eagerness to have the game under way. This afternoon's contest, with the first intercollegiate game in which either eleven has engaged this year, Coach Smith said:

There is no way to tell how the teams will stack up. My men expect one of the hardest fights they have ever had to deal with and they are eager to see what the result will be. The Oregon boys have in store.

GAMES IN SOUTH.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Brisk, snappy football weather of New England warriors at the University of California today, with two of the hardest games of the season scheduled to be played here. The day dawned damp and chilly at Fiesta Park, where grilling warriors of the University of Utah chased up and down the field in final practice for their game with U. C. this afternoon.

Meets Death at Work in Cragmont Timber

While superintending wood-cutting work in Cragmont, Clarendon Hamilton, fuel dealer of 915 Market street, was struck with a heart attack and before help could reach him was dead. For the past few years he had been subject to trouble with his heart.

Hamilton was 59 years old, a native of Palmyra, Missouri, but had lived in the West during most of his married life. He was a fuel man in Pocatello, Idaho, moving a few years later to Oxford in the same state. From there he came to Oakland and had been here in the wood and coal business since. He was a resident here 29 years.

Surviving him is a widow, Mrs. Eliza Hamilton, and four daughters. They are Mrs. W. C. Holladay, Mrs. J. J. Finerty and Mrs. H. C. Lauer of Oakland and Mrs. C. H. Metcalf of Columbus, Ohio. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, word being awaited from Mrs. Metcalf as to the probability of her attending the funeral.

One Scream Sends Burglar Out Window

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Awakened from sound sleep to find himself looking into the glaring bulb of an electric flashlight playing full upon his face, Miss Tennessee, 1125 E. 11th street, gave one startled scream, at 2:30 this morning. The hand that held the light quickly switched off the current and a moment later Miss Pugh saw a man disappear through her bedroom door. Nothing was taken.

Couple Is Suspected of Killing Chauffeur

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 21.—A man and a woman were sought by the police here today in connection with the finding of the body of Basil T. Smith, a chauffeur who apparently had been killed and robbed and his body then hidden in a wood.

Two Women Suing Writer for Divorce

Henry J. Devereaux, former fiction writer of New York and recently a shopkeeper in Oakland, has been sued for divorce twice within two days in San Francisco. Two alleged wives being involved in the case.

Margaret A. Devereaux, wife No. 1, whom he married in Buffalo, N. Y., in 1901, commenced an action in which she charged him with cruelty. They separated three weeks ago.

Mrs. Hazel Devereaux, wife No. 2, he is said to have married on October 5 in San Francisco, shortly after his separation from his first wife. Wife No. 2 lodged a suit No. 1 when officers called at her home to serve her husband with the divorce summons. Then she consulted attorneys and started suit on her own behalf, asking for an annulment on the grounds of alleged bigamy.

The exports were greater than ever before in one month and exceeded the previous record made last August by about $3,000,000. In announcing these statistics today the Department of Commerce pointed out that the American export trade was approaching the $5,000,000,000 mark.

BAPAUME IS APPROACHED BY BRITISH

Berlin Announcement Declares Le Sars and l'Abbaye Are Still Held Despite the Many and Most Vigorous Assaults

Kaiser's Soldiers in Desperate Effort to Regain the Initiative on Somme Handicapped in Aerial Division Activity

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The British on the Somme front have made additional headway in their push toward Bapaume along the main road from Albert, according to today's announcement by the war office, which records a gain of ground near Butte de Warthout. The statement reads:

During the night further progress was made in the neighborhood of Butte de Warthout. The enemy was interrupted by shelling by the enemy on our front north and south of the Ancre.

We successfully raided enemy trenches south of Neuve Chapelle.

BERLIN, Oct. 21, via London, 4:10 p. m.—On the Somme battlefield heavy firing continues, says the official statement given out today by the German army headquarters. It reports English attacks on the German positions between Le Cars and Eucourt l'Abbaye failed, the announcement says.

Deadly Assaults On French Front

PARIS, Oct. 21.—German troops apparently are trying to regain the initiative on the Somme.

Repeated terrific counter-attacks have been delivered by the Germans, especially north of the river, in the past few days, preceded by a heavy expenditure of ammunition. Each of these blows, according to reports from French headquarters, has been shattered, one after another.

The French continue slowly but surely, winning their objectives on the Somme, namely, the heights, railways and important highway junctions. The Germans are suffering greatly from inferiority in the aerial branch of warfare on the Somme, the headquarters reports say. As rapidly as German airplanes appear along the Anglo-French front, they are attacked and driven back. The German commanders thus far lack information about movements going on behind the allied front.

WASTED SHELLS.

In several instances in the last few days the Germans have spread a curtain fire over vast areas, wasting shells lavishly for long periods, either because of poor range directing by their aviators or because of nervousness on the part of their commanders, fearing an attack at some unlooked point.

French officials declared today that they have learned that the Germans are now systematically trying to create the impression among the neutrals that France is worn out by twenty-seven months of war. On the contrary, they said, France is determined to continue battering the German line with huge, newly-created artillery and other offensive materials all winter, despite rain, snow and sleet, maintaining the initiative, demoralizing the enemy and preventing the transport of troops to other fronts.

The French plan to keep their own troops as comfortable as possible and the Germans as uncomfortable as possible during the coming winter months.

SHUNS ENFORCING DIVINE LAWS

means it is a terrible mistake, and I will not believe that the city is doing it for revenue.

Some man is equally guilty with each woman. Judge Smith has expressed himself to me as being in favor of bringing these men in and holding them equally guilty. Then let some of these men pay the fines. It would be far more effective in keeping our streets clean and would be a little more honorable than the present system.

Can you do something so that the city can handle this matter with some degree of decency and self-respect?

In an answering letter to Miss McCall, frankly admits that the task of continuing his present methods of disciplining the women is distasteful to him.

Police Judge Smith could not be seen today with regard to Miss McCall's statement that he believed the men could be held equally guilty with the women. He is at home ill with a severe cold and under the care of a physician.

Papa Hart Not Yet Unbending Toward Elopers

MRS. PAUL GREGORY.

Engaged Pair Just Couldn't Await Added Years

Eloping without so much as leaving the usual note on the pillowcase, Miss Edith Imogene Hart, adopted daughter of Howard Hamilton Hart, millionaire oil and mining man of Berkeley, and Paul Casler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas V. Gregory of 15 Alvarado road, were quietly married last Thursday in San Jose.

When the news of the wedding penetrated to the spacious Hart residence in the Uplands, there was general consternation, on account, it has been given out, of the extreme youth of the eloping pair.

The bride was graduated only last spring from the Convent of Notre Dame in San Jose, and by her statement to Justice of the Peace C. J. Donthelmer, is 18 years of age. Young Gregory confessed before the ceremony to 21 years.

From the Hart home comes the information that the two have been engaged some little while but were not to have married until they reached mature ages.

Hart last night declared not only that he knew his adopted daughter's husband but slightly, but added, "I do not desire to know him any better."

On the other hand, Mrs. Hart predicted the forthcoming of patterns for givens and that the Gregorys would live in Berkeley on their return from their sudden honeymoon. Mrs. Gregory is one of the two adopted daughters of the Harts.

Until his rush into matrimony, the bridegroom had been attending school in Berkeley. His family is well known in Berkeley, their home being not far from that of the Harts that is perched on the Cincinnati hills.

REJECTED LOVER WOULD END LIFE

Unrequited love on the part of William Duncan Barbee for Mrs. Edna Newhart, a widow of 4322 Gilbert street, is said by his friends to be the direct cause of his taking poison last week, the effects from which he is suffering at the Providence Hospital, where his condition is serious.

Barbee is an advertising man, formerly of Lafayette, Indiana, where he has an income from a large estate.

According to Mrs. W. Taylor, in whose home both Barbee and Mrs. Newhart lived, Barbee sought to force his attentions upon Mrs. Newhart, who is twice a divorcee. Her refusal to marry him is said to have led him to take the poison.

The Taylors formerly lived at 30 Calne avenue, San Francisco, coming to Oakland the first of the month.

Barbee had been drinking heavily and no doubt he was temporarily deranged when he made his attack upon his life. Mrs. Newhart, who reportedly has advanced in the spirit of friendship, but he took it more seriously.

Tried to Force Beer on Her; Asks Divorce

Alleging that her husband tried to make her drink a quantity of beer against her wishes, Genevieve E. Yalton today commenced suit for divorce from Fran Yalton. She says that the quarrel over the beer took place a month ago.

Mrs. Maud Connolly, who commenced suit for divorce two days ago against J. R. Connolly, today obtained an order from Superior Judge Waste restraining the defendant from molesting her or from disposing of his stock in a San Francisco laundry concern.

Mrs. Connolly alleged that her husband had tried to kill her and that he had made threats to carry out his intention.

COLONEL IS AT HOME IN OLD SCENES

Whole Town Where the Rough Riders Were Recruited Turns Out to Greet Roosevelt, Who Wants Only Cabin and Tub

T. R. Is So Feted by Friends of Old Days He Can Hardly Recall Purpose of Visit to Arizona Is Really Politics

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 21.—It was hard for Colonel Roosevelt to remember what he came out here for today. He made a 2100-mile jump from Louisville with only a few stops in between, to utter his most bitter denunciation of President Wilson's Mexican policy and urge election of Charles Evans Hughes, but when he turned he found old scenes and old faces that tended to take his mind off his job.

The colonel was met here by a big committee composed of members of the Grand Army of the Republic, Spanish War Veterans and Confederate Veterans, headed by Dwight B. Heard, an old personal friend, and Jack Greenway, a member of the Rough Riders, who before that was Yale's famous backstop who caught the curves of "Dutch" Carter, brother-in-law of Hughes.

There were the usual hands and day-light bombs to greet Roosevelt. He lunched at Heard's house, with Jack Greenway, and then spoke at 2:30 this afternoon.

COLONEL AT HOME.

The colonel was to be guest of honor at a dinner at the Heard home tonight, when several friends of ranching days were expected. In Roosevelt had been urged not to stop today until he reached Phoenix, but he forced Regis Post, in charge of his tour, to arrange a stop at Phoenix, where he arrived at 6:30. He dined in the colonel's arms half way up San Juan Hill and the colonel, although the stop had to be made at 6:30, ordered Post to wire ahead that he would make a short speech.

All day yesterday and today Roosevelt was in his element. He simply drank in the Western scenes. Once he called out: "By George, I'd like to be young again out here. If I could, I'd build myself a cabin out here, with a bathtub in it, and just stay until I died. By George, but I would."

ANSWERS HECKLERS.

But it remained for Gallop, N. M., where he raised half of the Rough Riders, to furnish the thrills of the bound trip. Nearly all of the town of 3000 crowded about to see him. He hadn't started speaking when noisy heckling began.

"How's Teddy—but Wilson for me," shouted a railroad man.

Roosevelt attempted again and again to start speaking, but others took up the cry:

"How about Wilson; I'll bet you love him."

"I love no one too proud to fight," retorted Roosevelt.

"We've all got good jobs; why should we change?" was shouted.

"Yes, but you forget the thousands out of work until the European war put money in your pockets," said Roosevelt.

"How about the 1907 panic?" a man called.

"At that time I would vote for you if you were running."

"What did you ever do? We've got eight hours," yelled a railroad worker with brass lungs.

"You fool and coward," shouted back the colonel. "Go home and read the paper."

EXCHANGE COURTESY.

Then as Roosevelt was declaring no American was killed by any foreigner during his terms, a man at the edge of the crowd who held a baby in his arms, shouted: "Yes, you let the Japanese into the schools when I lived in California."

"And I sent the battle fleet around to Japan to prevent trouble," called Roosevelt.

"How many mint juleps did you have at Louisville?" yelled the railroad man.

The colonel was leaning over the end of his car, shouting in his loudest tones, obviously enjoying the verbal battle royal. The railroad was the last man to shake Roosevelt's hand as the train pulled out.

"You're a grand man, colonel," he called, running along with the slowly moving train, "but me for Woodrow Wilson."

Rescue of Bear Is Abandoned

Captain Leaves; Order to Strip Ship Expected

EUREKA, Cal., Oct. 21.—With the departure of the British wrecking tug Salvor for Victoria, operations in the vicinity of the wreck of the steamer Bear ceased. Captain H. A. Logan, who has been in charge of the operations, left by train and will go to Guatemala, where he will attempt to float the German steamer which has been ashore for several years.

Fred Tibbits, first officer of the Bear, with four men, still is aboard the steamer, and it is believed that orders to strip the vessel will soon be forthcoming. Seas are breaking over the vessel and unless quick action is taken it may be impossible to strip her, it was said today.

WILSON HAS HARD SCHEDULE AHEAD

President Pleased With Having Regained Friendship of Commoner.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Oct. 21.—Back at Shadow Lawn today after what he regards the "most successful trip" of his campaign, President Wilson prepared to launch his most vigorous efforts during the two weeks now remaining before election.

This afternoon he addresses a delegation of farmers from the veranda of the Summer White House here; Wednesday he leaves for Cincinnati, where he speaks Thursday, returning to Long Branch for another "porch speech" next Saturday. The following week he speaks at Buffalo, New York City and final speech at Shadow Lawn.

President Wilson himself was tired, but highly satisfied today. He is confident of the verdict of the voters two weeks from Tuesday. His long visit with former Secretary of State Bryan, the first meeting they have enjoyed together since Bryan's spectacular resignation, put him in fine spirits.

The little luncheon party which served during the President and his former cabinet premier into intimate touch again was unique. When Bryan reached Pittsburgh, the President asked him to ride in the same automobile with him.

"I am just an interested onlooker like the rest,"

They rode in separate cars.

When they returned to the train, the President asked the commoner to take luncheon with him. Again Bryan demurred, but this time the President said: "Come on, now. I have a plate laid specially for you."

Johnson's Tour of State Continuous Ovation

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 21.—"It took an Abraham Lincoln to free the United States from slavery, and it took a political revolution led by Hiram Johnson to restore political liberty to the people of California," said W. B. Kiggins, chairman of the Johnson meeting, at Lindsay yesterday afternoon. "California's accomplishments in government are needed by the nation, and so we are willing to let the governor go into the national field."

Equally laudatory were the introductions here last evening, when the governor spoke to a packed house.

"Johnson achieved more legislation for all the people," said Colonel H. P. Brey, chairman of the rally, "than any governor in the history of the nation."

When the governor himself spoke, he was given an ovation.

Governor Hiram W. Johnson, touring down the State in his triumphal campaign for the United States Senate, will cross the Tehachapi and speak in the southern next week. His itinerary follows:

Monday, October 23—Orange, Fuller and Anaheim. Tuesday—Escondido and San Diego. Wednesday—Corona and Riverside. Thursday—Colton and Ontario. Friday—Los Angeles at Trinity Auditorium. Saturday—Ventura and Santa Barbara.

PROBE CAUSE OF ATTEMPT AT MURDER

Husband of Mrs. Ellen Stewart Tells History of Poolroom Venture, Its Failure and His Wife's Despondency, Result

Max Bernstein, on Pallet of Pain at Hospital, Declares Her Suspicions of Crooked Deal Were Without Reason

While Max Bernstein, a barber, is recovering from a painful wound in his shoulder, and the body of Mrs. Ellen Stewart, who, after attempting to kill the man she thought had swindled her, took poison, is at the morgue, investigation was started today by the coroner's office into the happenings that led up to the attempted murder and suicide last night.

Striving through a plate glass window of Bernstein's barber shop last night and narrowly missing customers waiting inside, Mrs. Stewart dropped the barber to the floor. As bystanders hurried forward to seize her she drew a vial of poison from her pocket and swallowed the contents. The tragedy occurred at Bernstein's shop at 1041 Fifty-fifth street.

Mrs. Stewart, who lived at 5079 San Pablo avenue, purchased, with her husband, a small poolroom in the neighborhood, according to Horatio Stewart, her husband. Bernstein negotiated the deal, into which both put their meager savings. The place did not pay. Mrs. Stewart believed that Bernstein had cheated them, says her husband, and on several occasions had threatened the barber.

Some of my wife's money went into the deal, said Stewart, who was a blacksmith before he embarked in the poolroom venture. She always thought the deal had been misrepresented, but I never dreamed it would come to this.

She had no reason to shoot me, declares Bernstein. The deal was on the square. I believe she must have been insane.

Charles O'Connor, a grocer, 1235 Stanford avenue, was in the barber's chair at the time of the shooting, the woman aiming over his body at her victim. Dave Daniels, 1026 Fifty-fifth street, was waiting to be shaved and saw Mrs. Stewart shoot through the glass. Policeman George Wolters, attracted by the shots, arrived just as she took the poison. He hurried her to the Emergency hospital, but she was dead on arrival.

THIRD WIFE OF PSYCHIC SOUGHT HERE

Aged Ex-Minister Is Arrested With Girl in San Jose; Said to Have Control Over Woman Who Is Vision of Fish Dream

W. T. Allen, 62, Has Long Matrimonial Record and Is Held in Jail While Police Investigate His Relations With Girl

While weird stories of a "spirit control" that bound a young girl to an aged psychic, are puzzling the San Jose police, and conflicting facts, a maze of tangled relations and several alleged marriages of W. T. Allen, former Methodist minister, are involved in the queer case, detectives are probing into the past life of the ex-pastor, who is now in jail in San Jose. One of his wives, his third, is declared by the detectives to live in Oakland. It is expected that she may be able to cast some light on the mystery surrounding the arrest.

Allen, 62 years of age, former minister, and recent a propagandist of the National Spiritual Association, was arrested in company with Miss Lillian Joyce, 25 years old. The girl declares that the prisoner exerts a "mystic spell" over her, that she came to him for "psychic development" to be a medium, and that she cannot break away from him. Both are in jail awaiting the outcome of the police investigation.

"I cannot break from the power that is around him," the girl informed the police. "I want him to go out of my life."

"I love her," declared Allen. "She is the sweetest spirit with which I ever came into contact."

In the girl's possession was found a note, signed by Allen, and reading: "Last night I dreamed I caught a fish, and realized that the fish was you."

HAS SON HERE.

Allen had a son, Ernest P. Allen, a music teacher, of 2428 Dwight way, Berkeley. He told the police he had been married three times, and left his third wife, now living in Oakland, for a Mrs. M. McDowell, San Jose, and then left Mrs. McDowell for Miss Joyce. His first wife, he said, was Miss Belle Hessler, of Crestline, Ohio, and his second, he having been divorced from the first, was Miss Maggie G. Estell, San Jose, of 2513 Harrison street, San Francisco. His third wife, he said, was Miss Laura Brown. He declares that mediums told her she had lost his love.

News from Labor Headquarters

Plans for the organization of the school teachers of the county into an association, with headquarters at Berkeley, are well under way, according to the reports made by organizers today. A large number of teachers have enrolled for the first association being formed in Berkeley.

The organization, while not to be a union in the strict sense of the term, will still be represented in the labor organization. There will be branches in Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and the rest of the county, and a representative appointed to represent the four branches at a central county delegate will meet with the union men. The object is to place organized labor's position before the school teachers' association. R. W. Castro, S. W. Loren and several other organizers are conferring with teachers on the proposition.

Final addresses will be made during the coming few days on the proposed franchise amendment, being urged before every union in the county by a special campaign committee composed of J. J. Conner and J. J. Lohr, representing the Central Labor Council. This committee has been active in addressing unions on the matter ever since the official endorsement of the plan was given by the Central Labor Council.

F. H. Pratt, secretary of the Building Trades Council, will have completed next week a tentative outline of work to be carried on jointly by the building organization and the Central Labor Council. Pratt has been appointed representative under the plan, will consider co-operative work.

The Union Label League entertained last night at a whist party, held in Clerk's Hall, 1110 Broadway, the meeting place of the organization. Members of the league discussed the plans for the active campaign to be waged to insure the placing of union labels on laundry. This work will be carried on principally among the women of Oakland and the campaign will be handled by the wives of prominent union men. Among those who will be active in the work are Mrs. J. McFie, Mrs. Hester, Mrs. W. C. Cline, F. W. Voigt, Mrs. Don Witt and others.

Members of the Cooke and Walters' Union, the Musicians and the Bartenders' Union have been notified by order of the Central Labor Council that strike conditions exist at Barnum's restaurant. Women demand union hours and pay at the restaurant.

Teutons to Join With Russians? So Says Muensterberg; Japan to Be in Combine

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 21.—Hugo Muensterberg, professor of psychology at Harvard University, in an address before the International Polity Club of the university, asserted that he had been reliably informed that Russia and Germany would sign terms of a separate peace before spring, and that after this peace there would be an alliance between Germany, Russia and Japan.

"I know from reliable sources," he said, "that Russia is out of joint, is half bankrupt, is starving and will be ready for a separate peace before spring. The result is to be an alliance between Germany, Austria, Russia and Japan, Japan and Russia are pushing toward this combination and an overwhelming majority of the German people would welcome it."

"It is the old Bismarckian tradition that Germany ought to be the friend of Russia, and that such an alliance would be her surest protection."

"If we really want to bring peace for a generation there is no hope but to bring Germany and England to an understanding before Germany and Russia have made peace and formed an alliance. Neither the English nor the German people want this peace today, but they ought to want it, for once the new alliance is formed it will seek to crush the ambition of England for world power."

"Some neutral groups in Europe are seeking to bring about this understanding between Germany and England. Yet real peace is expected only if the government of the United States undertakes this master work."

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH

Hurry, Mother! Remove Poisons From Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels.

Give "California Syrup of Figs" at Once if Bilious or Constipated.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a little thorough cleansing at once. When the tongue is coated, the child doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, gives a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of his little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sleek children to take this harmless "fruit laxative"; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Advertisement.

WILSON BLAMED FOR ISLAND EXODUS

Potter of Education Bureau Tells Conference of Democratic Policies.

MOHONK LAKE, N. Y., Oct. 21.—John T. Potter, who recently returned from the Philippines where for eleven years he was chief clerk in the bureau of education, today declared before the Lake Mohonk Conference on Indians and dependent peoples that American employees in the island are being forced out by Democratic rule or by resigning. Governor General Harrison and Vice Governor Martin, he said, are sincerely carrying out orders from Washington and Mr. Martin at least, he added, is openly in favor of getting Americans out of the islands as soon and as completely as possible. The Philippine government, Mr. Potter declared, has passed a "polite invitation" to get out by granting year's salaries to Americans who apply for withdrawal, an invitation that is being generally accepted because Americans there either in government employ or in business, feel that if they are not allowed to remain permanently now is the time to leave.

Samuel B. Hill of Cincinnati criticized the administration, alleging the weakening of the Philippine bureau of science, withdrawing American scientists.

WHOLE TOWN ATTACHED. REDWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Almost the entire town of San Carlos was attached for a debt of $2210 alleged to be owing C. S. Smith by the San Francisco Peninsula Company, which owns the San Carlos tract.

Comparison Absurd, Declares War Secy.

ELMHURST, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Secretary of War Newton Baker last night was shown a clipping quoting him as comparing the Mexicans with the American revolutionists. "It is too absurd to be worthy of notice," he said, not concealing his displeasure at being misquoted. "I could not think of such a thing to say nothing of saying it. It is entirely wrong. I did not say anything that could possibly be interpreted that way."

Paresis Cases Are Cause of Alarm

SALISBURY, Ore., Oct. 21.—Pointing out that during the biennium ending in September, 115 patients were received suffering from general paresis, Dr. R. E. Steiner, superintendent of the State Hospital for the Insane, recommends in his biennial report issued today from that institution be enacted requiring all cases of capital diseases to be reported, in order that they may be quarantined. The report declares that prohibition has decreased the commitments to the asylum for insanity due to alcoholism.

Portland Undergoing Longest Dry Spell

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 21.—The record for the longest dry spell in the fall of the year was equalled in Portland today, this being the forty-second day in which there has been no rain. The previous drought period for the same length of time occurred in 1895. Fair weather is predicted for tomorrow, which promises a new record.

Winter Brings Busy Days for The Smart Set

Since the opening night of the auditorium, when ten thousand or more filled every available seat and box of the arena and Lido Ballroom, a great ballet of nymphs in white fluttered like butterflies in the main-colored search-lights, nothing given there has been able to attract society as the big baby hospital ball tonight.

It is not a case of tickets being taken as a matter of form, for everybody is going to "show." Every box will be filled with parties, many of them centered around the debutantes, and over two thousand tickets are out for the remainder of the house.

The piece of resistance of the entertainment—Porter Garnett's "Petite Fantasia Luminaire"—is pronounced by those who have seen the final rehearsal as "charming beyond the wildest dreams," so in addition to a brilliant audience there will be a performance of most unusual and imaginative quality, not to mention a cast of decidedly interesting actors.

Douglas Crane as a Pierrot, twenty-four really lovely young college girls for the ballet, with Mrs. Thomas Arthur Riddle as the moon-maid, Ralph Phelps and Austin Sperry are all taking part in this little dance-drama, which has been written and rehearsed for forty minutes. It will start at half after nine, just half an hour after the dancing begins.

Besides "Petite Fantasia Luminaire," Mrs. Charles Wingate, who is the genius of the entertainment committee, has arranged other acts that will be given at intervals to break up the monotony of one-acts and waltzes.

All of the matrons and maids who have been selling wares in the Italian market have promised to wear their Italian costumes this evening. Another decorative feature will be the floor managers, who are to wear—alike—strong—blue ribbons containing warning signs. The Rensborough will be adorned with a chairman of the committee.

Many of the entire crowd who have the responsibility of the floor include Joseph Rensborough, chairman; Ray Baker, Fred E. Christian, Dr. John Louis Lohm, Fred E. Marce, Harry Anderson, Irving Lundberg, Harry S. Farr, Ralph McAdams, Louis Arnold, Mr. L. Hotchkiss, Samuel H. Marce, Charles L. Wingate, Harold Havens, Walter Belmont, Harry F. Anderson and Harford Sharon.

Society, indeed, gained an acquisition to its ranks today when Miss Elizabeth Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edson F. Adams, was formally introduced at an elaborate reception given by her mother at the family residence in Piedmont. Miss Adams is the second daughter of the late bay cities has contributed to the charming coterie of buda whose coming out this winter, will be the inspiration for a round of gaiety. Carefully educated and of sweet personality, she will, without doubt, be the most sought after girls of the season.

It was a sumptuous function which Mrs. Adams gave for the presentation, exquisite in its every detail. The Adams mansion tops the Piedmont hills and one of the show places in the recent real estate boom was a garden of fall bloom, the autumn month being suggested in the picturesque and festive scene.

One hundred and fifty guests were included in the invitation to greet the new girl, who has been promised to be in the promise of pleasure which lies before her.

The receiving party was a notable one, assembling some of the most exclusive matrons and matrons about the bay. Standing in line with Mrs. Adams and Miss Adams were:

Mrs. George S. White, Mrs. Paul Dismore, Mrs. Philip B. Bowles, Mrs. Bertha Wilcox, Mrs. William Blackley, Mrs. Florence Brown, Mrs. George Greenwood, Mrs. William Beaver, Mrs. Bernard Hanson, Mrs. Margaret Scheld, Mrs. William Bell, Mrs. Any Beem, Mrs. Fringie, Mrs. William O. Hen, Mrs. Marion Baker, Mrs. George W. Mc, Mrs. Emily Hope, Mrs. Frank Lampson, Mrs. Genevieve Bothin, Mrs. Victor Requa, Mrs. Anne Elizabeth, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, Mrs. Jean Wheeler, Mrs. William A. Magee, Mrs. Helen Goodall, Mrs. Frank H. Deane, Mrs. John Goodwood, Mrs. William T. White, Mrs. Elizabeth Barroll, Mrs. Frederick C. Ma, Mrs. Ruth Welen, Mrs. Charles Keeney, Mrs. Cora Cordia Clumpe, Mrs. Alice Henshaw, Mrs. Adeline Howard.

The younger girls in the receiving party and a score of the men of the smart set were entertained at a dinner dance at the roundly brilliant the notable occasion.

That Piedmont is to lose Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stent is a matter of deep regret among their friends, but that they are going so far away from San Francisco leaves some gleam of satisfaction. The Stents have purchased a charming home in Pacific avenue, the residence formerly occupied by Mrs. William Remyaux. For so long they have been identified with the gaieties on this side of the bay, their removal will make but little difference in their presence with the smart set here.

With Mrs. Charles Adams as her guest of honor, Mrs. L. G. Harrier entertained on Thursday afternoon, including a large number of the exclusive California society in her invitation to meet her sister, Mrs. Adams is spending some weeks in the bay region from her home in Los Angeles and is being extensively feted.

Friends of Mrs. Walter Henry, who has been one of the sought after matrons on this side the bay and who represents one of the pioneer families of Oakland, will be pleased to learn that she has happily established in Sacramento.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION
Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition, 10c and 25c per box.

where her home is to be made for a time at least. Mrs. Henry, who is active in the development of her own Young Woman's Christian Association work as a member of the board of directors, is also a secretary of the flourishing sister organization in the Capital City. She will, indeed, be missed by her friends and by the county workers. Later, who valued her volunteer service highly. Mrs. Henry is a daughter of the late Senator George E. Whitney and a sister of Miss Anita Whitney.

Thursday evening of next week Mrs. Frank Buck will open her Piedmont home to a small group of close friends who are meeting occasionally for a season of bridge. The party will be given at the home of Mrs. Buck, Mrs. and Mrs. Harold Jewett, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cowling, Dr. and Mrs. Albert Rowe.

Last week Mrs. Buck gave a baby party, entertaining two dozen friends under the stars in a most delightful way. Games drew to the heart of the youngsters, a pretty supper, and a moving picture show lent diversion to the occasion, which was in honor of the small ones of her own household.

A series of two dances is the delightful compliment which Mrs. George S. Headlin is offering a large number of her friends. The first dance will be given at Warwick street for the occasion. A Yama Yama dance is planned for the Saturday of Saturday, October 28, when forty-two guests will appear in the quaint garb of the popular characters. Headlin will give the party, which will be given at her home on the corner of Broadway and Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jewett are cozyly established in their new home in Piedmont. Mrs. Jewett was formerly Miss Grace Layman. The arrangement committee consists of Ray Simpson, Ray Berch, C. McElroy, Charles Olsen and H. Gibble.

One of the elaborate teas of yesterday afternoon was that for which Mrs. James Herryhill opened her attractive Berkeley home. The party was given in honor of Mrs. M. N. Carr and Mrs. R. B. Carr.

Mrs. Alexander Isenberg, who has come from her home in Honolulu to spend the winter in Berkeley, will be the motif for an elaborate luncheon for which Mrs. Isenberg has invited a large number of friends for Wednesday afternoon, November 1, at her home in Piedmont. Covers will be laid for twenty guests.

Edmund L. Webb has left for the East, planning to spend several months in New York and Washington. During his stay here Mrs. Webb and her two daughters, Miss Isabel and Miss Clementine Webb, will join him in New York for the Christmas holidays.

With Miss May Banks, the attractive niece of Professor Charles M. Gayley, who is spending the early winter as her house guest, as the inspiration, Mrs. Gayley will entertain at a dinner on the evening of Friday, October 27, sharing her hospitality with a congenial coterie of the younger set of Berkeley. The happy affair will precede the initial dance of the Berkeley Assembly, which through many delightful seasons has earned the title of the most exclusive dancing club on this side the bay.

The other larger assemblies have fallen out of line, but the Berkeley maids and men who have made a membership with a little group of the army and navy set from across the bay are too devoted to the good times which the series of winter dances give to allow such a catastrophe to happen to them. The list given for the evening includes some of the smartest matrons on the east shore.

The news that Mrs. Adolph Barton, who is spending the early winter as her mother, Mrs. Franklin Bangs, is of interest to the younger married set. Since her marriage Mrs. Barton has been but little in Oakland. Her husband's work has taken him to many of the interesting places of the country, including the Yuma zone, where they lived for an extended period.

A number of the local colony crossed the bay yesterday afternoon to accept the hospitality of Mrs. Harry Webb, who gave an elaborate tea for the Laurel Court at the Fairmont. The function was arranged in honor of Mrs. Irving M. Scott, but divided the honors also with the local, who leaves next week for her home in New York. Among those from this side who enjoyed the charming occasion were Mrs. Thomas Richard, Mrs. Prentiss Seiby, Mrs. Mark Requa, Mrs. Spencer Browne, Mrs. Edson Adams, Mrs. Charles Butters, Mrs. George McFar, Mrs. Ernest Folger, Mrs. Charles Merrill, Mrs. William Meier.

With Mrs. Paul Gardner as her guest of honor, Mrs. Milton Irving Clough gave a bridge party yesterday afternoon at her home. The party was given in honor of Mrs. Gardner, who is a member of the local colony. She is returning within a few days to her home in the South.

Mrs. Mary Agnes Bennett, the popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Bennett of Berkeley, followed the precedent established by most of the girls this year of telling her betrothed informally to her closer friends and not making known the interesting secret at any function. Miss Bennett received her finishing at Miss Hamilton's School across the bay. She has the gift of a musician and has been much sought after for her talent.

Kausen took his degree from the University of California. He is active in affairs of the Xi Psi Phi and Epsilon Alpha fraternities.

SOCIAL CLUB TO DANCE
A dancette is to be given Friday evening under the direction of the Lo Tres Joll Club, a local dancing organization, at the Wigwam hall and roof garden. The arrangement committee consists of Ray Simpson, Ray Berch, C. McElroy, Charles Olsen and H. Gibble.

Officers had suspected that contraband liquor was coming overland from California under the same influence and became all smiles and graciousness.

"I don't know a thing about the play. I read in advance of plays that I am to see. I had so much trouble with my first play that I don't have time to read anything about it. Do you know what the plot is, Roxane?"

"I am relying upon you young ladies to give me a synopsis of it," declared. "Of course, I understand that is the gentleman's duty and privilege to be able to answer all questions put to him by his guests, but on this occasion I must plead for forgiveness. I was so tangled up with the affairs of the A. B. Company today that I did not have time for anything else."

"At mention of the name I became all ears," said Mr. Gordon. "I have found that my imagination becomes too busy when I form all sorts of ideas of heroine and villain, and sometimes even the villain, and of course I could not question him about the matter."

"Nothing wrong," Marjiam inquired quickly, as she detected a note of weariness in her uncle's voice.

"I never thought of that," said Uncle Wiggly. "I have found that my imagination becomes too busy when I form all sorts of ideas of heroine and villain, and sometimes even the villain, and of course I could not question him about the matter."

"The play is called 'The Rose,' but that is all I know about it," Mr. Gordon replied. "It is a name which does not indicate anything definite as to its story, but I have a story, and I shall not have any story to speak of these days."

"That remark sounds as if you were 80 years old, Uncle John, and were just leading up to the statement that in the future I would have to read the play, young plays did have stories, and plenty of them."

"I never thought of that," said Uncle Wiggly. "I have found that my imagination becomes too busy when I form all sorts of ideas of heroine and villain, and sometimes even the villain, and of course I could not question him about the matter."

"I will not admit that," replied Mr. Gordon. "But I will not argue the point because I should like to win the argument. Neither of you is old enough to know anything about what plays used to be like."

"I've seen 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' and I imagine Roxane also has seen it; haven't you?"

"Yes, I wouldn't admit it to everybody, but to a close friend like you I do not mind telling the truth. The play was counterplot and full within plots. Sometimes there were several villains. The world has grown somewhat better, but I don't think there isn't even one villain in a play."

"Perhaps it is the plays that are getting better and better," replied Mr. Gordon. "I will not admit that," replied Mr. Gordon. "But I will not argue the point because I should like to win the argument. Neither of you is old enough to know anything about what plays used to be like."

WOMAN PLAYS HER PART IN THE NEWS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—Charging J. Warren Carhart, prominent society man, with failure to provide for his 8-year-old daughter, Lella Alice, on warrant for Carhart's arrest was sworn out late last night on the request of his wife, Mrs. Lella Simonde Carhart.

The wife's action was on the grounds of non-support and desertion. What the husband has charged in his counter suit is as yet unknown in Los Angeles.

I was so tangled up with the affairs of the A. B. Company today that I did not have time for anything else."

"At mention of the name I became all ears," said Mr. Gordon. "I have found that my imagination becomes too busy when I form all sorts of ideas of heroine and villain, and sometimes even the villain, and of course I could not question him about the matter."

"Nothing wrong," Marjiam inquired quickly, as she detected a note of weariness in her uncle's voice.

"I never thought of that," said Uncle Wiggly. "I have found that my imagination becomes too busy when I form all sorts of ideas of heroine and villain, and sometimes even the villain, and of course I could not question him about the matter."

"The play is called 'The Rose,' but that is all I know about it," Mr. Gordon replied. "It is a name which does not indicate anything definite as to its story, but I have a story, and I shall not have any story to speak of these days."

"That remark sounds as if you were 80 years old, Uncle John, and were just leading up to the statement that in the future I would have to read the play, young plays did have stories, and plenty of them."

"I never thought of that," said Uncle Wiggly. "I have found that my imagination becomes too busy when I form all sorts of ideas of heroine and villain, and sometimes even the villain, and of course I could not question him about the matter."

"I will not admit that," replied Mr. Gordon. "But I will not argue the point because I should like to win the argument. Neither of you is old enough to know anything about what plays used to be like."

"I've seen 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' and I imagine Roxane also has seen it; haven't you?"

"Yes, I wouldn't admit it to everybody, but to a close friend like you I do not mind telling the truth. The play was counterplot and full within plots. Sometimes there were several villains. The world has grown somewhat better, but I don't think there isn't even one villain in a play."

"Perhaps it is the plays that are getting better and better," replied Mr. Gordon. "I will not admit that," replied Mr. Gordon. "But I will not argue the point because I should like to win the argument. Neither of you is old enough to know anything about what plays used to be like."

"I've seen 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' and I imagine Roxane also has seen it; haven't you?"

Confessions of Roxane

FRANCES E. WALTER

I start on my search for pleasure. I was leaving my husband behind, not only for the evening, but possibly, in a sense, for the remainder of my life.

(Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

As Marjiam, Mr. Gordon and I drove away from the hotel toward the theater, I felt as if I was starting on a journey. I was determined to become independent of my husband in seeking to amuse myself had been upon my mind so constantly during the last few days that I had come to feel that I was passing through some critical period of my life.

Whenever a woman decides to disregard her husband in any phase of her life, she is starting on a journey. She begins to see things that she never saw before. Roads branch off at unexpected places from the beaten pathway, and new scenes are to be discovered on either hand.

This simple thing of going to the theater therefore took on the aspect of a momentous event. Had I been going with Arthur I would have been bored, and I would have been bored with him. I would have been bored with him, and I would have been bored with him.

But I was not with Arthur. I was leaving my husband behind, not only for the evening, but possibly, in a sense, for the remainder of my life. I was leaving my husband behind, not only for the evening, but possibly, in a sense, for the remainder of my life.

My decision to seek my own enjoyment would lead me to the point where he would not care to go with him. I might find that the pleasure I enjoyed with others was so much greater than any I might find with Arthur that I might, by mutual consent, agree to go our separate ways thereafter.

These thoughts made me quiet enough as we started on our way, but Marjiam's chatter soon brought the shades of foreboding and brought me gradually into the light of her own gay good humor. Mr. Gordon, who had been somewhat stately at first, had relaxed under the same influence and became all smiles and graciousness.

"I don't know a thing about the play. I read in advance of plays that I am to see. I had so much trouble with my first play that I don't have time to read anything about it. Do you know what the plot is, Roxane?"

"I am relying upon you young ladies to give me a synopsis of it," declared. "Of course, I understand that is the gentleman's duty and privilege to be able to answer all questions put to him by his guests, but on this occasion I must plead for forgiveness. I was so tangled up with the affairs of the A. B. Company today that I did not have time for anything else."

"At mention of the name I became all ears," said Mr. Gordon. "I have found that my imagination becomes too busy when I form all sorts of ideas of heroine and villain, and sometimes even the villain, and of course I could not question him about the matter."

"Nothing wrong," Marjiam inquired quickly, as she detected a note of weariness in her uncle's voice.

Carte-Blanche Story

(By Howard R. Garis.)
"Oh, Uncle Wiggly! It's going to be just the very nicest and prettiest you ever saw!" chimed Susie Littlebell, the rabbit girl, one morning, as she was skipping and hopping along to the hollow stump bungalow, where the bunny lived. "Oh, it's going to be so pretty!"

"What is?" asked Mr. Longears, looking over the top of the paper he was reading. "You are talking about the nice dinner Nurse Jane Wuzzy, the muskrat lady, is going to get for me?"

"Dinner? Why, no; the very ideal!" cried Susie, laughing so that her pink nose twinkled ever brighter than Uncle Wiggly's. "Just a little while. 'I was speaking about the new green dress mother is making for me to wear to Lulu Wiggly's party,' said Susie. 'I thought I'd hope Uncle Wiggly, that Nurse Jane gets you a good dinner.'"

"I hope so myself," laughed the bunny uncle. "But what is all this about a new dress?"

"It's true!" cried Susie. "I just had tried on, but mother took it off to sew up some of the seams, but some gossamer dress, a few plaits, a few plaits, a side and a ruffle or two around the edge. Then it will be all done, but while I am waiting I just thought I'd run over and tell you about it."

"Glad you did," said the rabbit gentleman. "I shall be very glad to see your new dress. Susie, an adventure. When he had finished reading the paper, Uncle Wiggly went for a walk, as he did nearly every day."

"And perhaps I may have an adventure," he said to himself with a smile. "At any rate, I am glad Susie is to have a new dress. There are very few green leaves left on the trees, and something green around the bungalow will make me think of summer."

So Uncle Wiggly walked along, and pretty soon he came to a tree, a great big tree, and from around behind it he heard a voice saying:

"Well, I'm sure I don't know what is going to become of us. It will soon be cold and, in fact, I am so chilly now I cannot sing, or hardly move. It is dreadful!"

"Oh, don't worry, my dear wife," said another voice. "In sure everything will be all right. The sun will soon be higher in the sky, and it will shine more warmly, and then perhaps we can fly away down south where it is so warm."

"And will you take us with you?" asked a whole lot of little voices.

"The sun is warm," answered the first one. "I would not think of leaving you children behind. That is, if we can get away."

"I will get away all right," said the second big voice.

Uncle Wiggly looked around behind the tree and there he saw a whole lot of green Katy-dids. There were two big ones, the father and mother, and lots of little boy and girl Katy-dids. These are green creatures; something like grasshoppers, only different. There are Katy-dids, too, but this story is not about them.

"What seems to be the trouble?" asked Uncle Wiggly in his kind voice.

"Oh, well, may you ask that?" cried Mrs. Katy-did. "The little boys and girls that we forgot to take the last animal airship down South, as the other bugs and the grasshoppers did, and now we shall have to fly ourselves if we want to. And we must go to keep from freezing, but already our wings are so stiff that we can hardly move. Oh, dear! Such trouble!"

"Now, my dear wife," said Mr. Katy-did, "I will get us down South." "Of course it will!" cried Uncle Wiggly in his most jolly voice. And when the little boy and girl Katy-dids heard him, they just had to laugh, he was so lollypop-like and kind.

"I never thought of that," said Mrs. Katy-did. "I shall get us down South." "I will get us down South," said Uncle Wiggly. "I can easily fix that. Here I have an empty box that was talking over to the boy Bushytail, the boy squirrel, so he could make a little toy wagon of it. But I will put you in the box with you, and all be warm. Then I will carry you to my warm bungalow, and you may stay until I can get out my own airship. Then I will fly to the warm south with you."

"Oh, joy!" cried all the Katy-dids. So Uncle Wiggly put them in the box and hopped home, with them, and he was having an adventure. He put the box of Katy-dids on the mantel and he was talking over to the boy Bushytail, the boy squirrel, so he could make a little toy wagon of it. But I will put you in the box with you, and all be warm. Then I will carry you to my warm bungalow, and you may stay until I can get out my own airship. Then I will fly to the warm south with you."

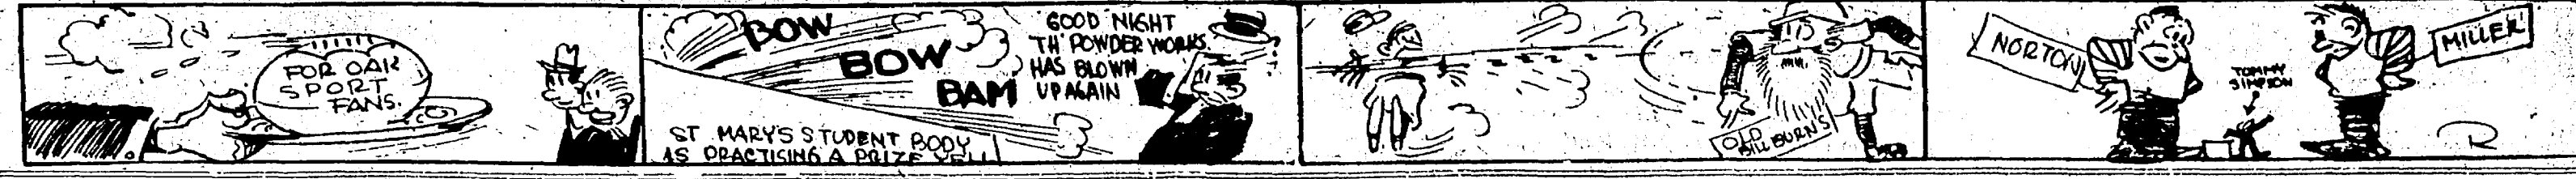

"The evening, light after supper, Susie Littlebell came running over to Uncle Wiggly's bungalow.

"Oh, bunny uncle!" she cried, "Something dreadful has happened!"

"What! Don't tell me Lulu Wiggly is not going to give her party, so you can wear your new green dress to it!" said Mr. Longears.

"It's almost as bad as that," cried Susie, looking so much like a fish that it was one of the nicest dresses at the party. Everybody had a fine time and the new Katy-did Wiggly took the green insects down south in his airship. So you see it is nice to be kind even to a Katy-did.

California Queen Fish Smashes Three Records

THREE SWIMMING RECORDS BROKEN BY MISS COWELLS

"Queen Fish" Sets New Marks in 220, 400 and 500 Yards in Piedmont Tank.

Miss Frances Cowells set new American records for the 440 yards and 500 yards women's swims at Piedmont baths, Oct. 20 last night. She covered the 440 in 6:59 flat, which breaks Miss Olga Dorfner's national record of 7:08 4-5. She covered the 500-yard mark in 8:00 flat, beating Miss Claire Galligan's Travers Island record of 8:02 1-2 seconds. The latter mark was a national record also. Both marks were made in a single swim, times taking her time at the two marks. Miss Cowells swam a beautiful crawl stroke throughout the entire race, setting a fast pace by the 100 yards mark. From her first two laps to the finish she was never headed. At the 220 yards she was timed at 3:17 3-4, a new Coast record. These records clearly establish Miss Cowells' claim to first rating as a distance swimmer in the United States. Mrs. Helen Joyner finished second, taking the position from Miss Alice Goodman at the fourteenth lap. Mrs. Joyner's mark was 4:40 yards faster than the previous Coast mark and gives promise of becoming a factor in girls' aquatics on the Coast. Mrs. Pollack, the New York entry, finished in fourth place close up to Miss Joyner. The Eastern swimmer failed on the turns and was handicapped by the strangeness of the pool.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 21. — San Francisco hit Gregory and Hall hard and won 7 to 4. Errors and twelve bases on balls, coupled with timely hitting, enabled Gregory to lead the team. NOTES and COMMENT

And you must earn by honest toil
Whatever you'd possess.
'Tis from the heart that you must strive
To be a real success.

The main reason for this is the progress shown by Oakland, Alameda County and surrounding counties during the last year. Manu-

FLOUR HIGHER THAN DURING CIVIL WAR

Advance of 20c Today Brings Staple Up to $8.60 a Barrel, Breaking Records; Almost $2 More Than That of Year Ago

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Flour is selling higher in San Francisco now than it was during Civil war times. Another 20 cents per barrel was tacked on to the price by local millers today, bringing the price for the family extra grade up to $8.60 per barrel with special grades for $8.20 per barrel with special grades for cakes, pies and fancy pastry selling up to $8.80 per barrel wholesale. And sugar is rising to the same prohibitive level, with advances of 10, 15 or 20 cents piling up the price every day or two.

Flour, shortly after the European war started, began to ascend rapidly, but the highest mark reached was $7.80 per barrel, while the price now is 40 cents per barrel higher than this and it is freely predicted that it will go still higher.

"If there is any change in the price of flour it will be an advance," is the opinion expressed today by the manager of a large local miller.

In the meantime, while the price of flour is ascending to dizzy heights, the bakers of San Francisco find themselves unable to make expenses on baking bread. As yet there has been no advance made in the price of pastry and cakes, and it is only a matter of a few days before this occurs is evident from the opinions expressed by local bakers.

A meeting of master bakers in San Francisco is to be held in a day or two, at which time it is proposed to take definite action, and that this will be to increase the price of bread, cakes and pies, there is little doubt.

Bakers say that they lose more than a cent a loaf on every loaf they bake. This cannot be kept up for very long, yet the baker who takes the lead in increasing bread prices, without all others taking similar action at the same time, will lose his business.

The price of flour in San Francisco now is almost $2 per barrel higher than at this time last year. The advance of 20 cents per barrel is the second to occur this week, and a similar advance was made last week.

All blame for the higher flour price is placed on the wheat market gambling. Prices for all milling grades of wheat on the floor of the Merchants' Exchange have daily reflected the gains made in other markets of the world, and especially the Chicago market, which has been doing some rapid climbing since the first of this week.

Bay Cities Mayors Discuss Mutual Good

The mayors from six east bay cities and Mayor Rolph of San Francisco are to speak at Idora Park tonight on the general topic of co-operation for mutual good by the bay cities. Mayor Irving of Berkeley will speak especially upon the value of industrialism at an educational center. Mayor Gerrard of Richmond will tell of the steady development of Richmond and the big things his municipality intends doing during the coming year. Acting Mayor W. Edwards of Oakland will be the chairman of the evening and will address the meeting on the prosperity of the bay cities. Mayor Bartlett of Alameda, Mayor Pelton of San Leandro, Mayor Munter of Hayward, will also speak on the general topic of discussion.

Little Girl Leaves "to Make Own Way"

Mildred Takyer, 13 years old, is being sought by the police. Her father, R. Takyer, a Stege business man, says the child left her home yesterday afternoon, following a quarrel with her parents, saying that she intended to "make her own way in the world." The girl has not been seen since.

Takyer said that the girl took some of her belongings with her. He thinks she has come to Oakland, and a description of the girl has been given to all police officers with instructions to take her into custody if she is seen.

MASQUE BALL TO RIVAL HEAVEN CONSTELLATIONS

MRS. EDWARD-LACEY BRAYTON (right) and MISS ADELINE HOWARD, who will be two of the hundred or more society women in Italian costume this evening at the big Baby Hospital Bal Masque at the auditorium.

Stepping out of a huge Golden Harvest Moon, the Man-in-the-Moon will appear before mortals tonight at the great masquerade ball at the Auditorium, and the stars will glitter in the new art curtain behind him as he sings along to the Moon-Maiden to the tune of many guitars.

The diversion, "Pettie Fantasia Lunaire," arranged by Porter Garrett, for production this evening at the ball, will be the principal event of the affair. One-half hour after the 9 o'clock opening of the ball it is scheduled to begin. The arena will be enveloped in darkness and the curtain raised while the faint sound of far guitars drifts out. A Spanish cavalier, Austin Sperry, appears silently and sings a serenade, "Mi Sueno," the stars appear one by one and the fantasy begins as a dream of old California.

Douglas Crane, as Fabulo, the Jester, is the solo dancer of the pantomime, and Mrs. Thomas Arthur Rickard of Berkeley is the Moon Maiden, Ralph Phelps, in a Pierrot costume of white and silver, plays the Man-in-the-Moon, and the moon-beams are girls from the University of California's group of most gifted dancers, led by Miss Marjorie De Laguna. The Star will be Miss Dorothy Eppings. Costumes suggesting the character of the roles have been designed for each of the principals and the ballet.

In the center of the Auditorium arena a dais of white has been set up for part of the action, as after the first few moments the major performance will be in the center of the great arena floor. Here the moon-beams and Fabulo will dance in the colored lights.

BRILLIANT ASSEMBLAGE.
The ball, winding up the three days of the Baby Hospital Bazaar, this evening is to attract the most brilliant assemblage of society people that has graced any affair at the Auditorium since the memorable Ball of a Thousand Colors over a year and a half ago, when the building was opened for the first time. Thirty extra boxes were built, following around three sides of the arena on the floor below the original sixty boxes. Each of these is to be filled with large parties. Thousands of spectators seats for the balcony have been sold at the special rate arranged, and there promises to be a colorful crowd in fancy dress on the floor among the other dancers. All of the women who have been part of Italian Market for the past three days will be in Italian costume, and there will be a committee of sixteen prominent men, headed by Joseph Roshor, in charge of the floor management. This list includes Ray Baker, Dr. John Grissim, Dr. John Louis Lohse, Fred E. Magge, Harry Anderson Laffey, Harry S. Farr, Ralph McFadyen, Louis Arnold, L. Hotchkiss, S. M. Marks, Charles B. Wingate, Harold Havens, Walter Lemert and others.

It has been reported by Mrs. Samuel Marks, who is one of the principal managers of the bazaar, that the receipts have heavily exceeded those of last year's fair, and it is hoped by tonight's ball to raise a much larger fund for the Baby Hospital.

MANY FEATURES.
There will be a number of entertainment features scattered through the evening, but the diversion, which will take up about forty minutes, is the most elaborate. According to those who witnessed last night's rehearsal, it is to be beautiful beyond their expectations.

MAGAZINE OF TRIBUNE IS BIG FEATURE

Feminism's tersest sentences are being pronounced in this country today by the National Women's Party. Traceable to Susan B. Anthony, comprising now the four million feminine voters in the twelve equal suffrage states, determined to exert upon this long masculinized nation the utmost influence they possess, the National Women's Party propose greater and greater activity from this time forth. No person who professes to be "up" on things American can henceforward be unacquainted with this party. What its origin was and what are its aims, where it proposes to work and for what and how, will be told to readers of the Oakland Tribune in tomorrow morning's issue by no less a person than Anne Martin, chairman of the party. Her article, written especially for this paper, is lucid, interesting and informative. It will pay no one to overlook it.

VALUED REMINISCENCES.
The reminiscences of a man who, four decades ago, was building a house a day in Oakland in order to keep up with the straits which the older citizens of the city were near approximate it, are also vividly told in tomorrow's edition. This man was Richard Ough. He dwells in Oakland today and is able to tell, regarding the sites of most of the structures which line the older streets, what stood there before and for what it was notable. This article is illustrated with views that will take many an old Oaklander back to almost forgotten days. Is the human race developing into a race of pygmies? Will the fancies that Dean Swift fancied when he created the Lilliputians to pester one Gulliver, be realized? Is the passage of the mastodon and the coming of smaller animals typical of what will happen to man? In one of the most absorbing pages that have ever appeared in a Sunday magazine supplement, the TRIBUNE tomorrow will offer a consideration of this subject. It is one which has engaged the attention of eminent scientists at the University of California. It may well make others of us stop to think.

MODERN PROTECTION.
Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead will tell readers of this paper tomorrow that it is better to prevent fire than to extinguish it and will offer suggestions for the former achievement. What constitutes a palatable and wholesome lunch for the kindly at school, how Uncle Sam has figured out to a dot the probabilities of life and what fashion, in her latest mood, dictates, are other interesting themes to be presented tomorrow in the only completely home-grown Sunday supplement of the West.

The usual Sunday features will be included in addition to these special articles. The Tribune will offer the latest gossip of men and affairs. Suzette will whisper society's prettiest secrets. Laura Bride Powers' art jottings and Ray C. B. Brown's discussion of the newest things musical, in addition to the books, editorial, financial and news pages, promise TRIBUNE readers in tomorrow's paper one of the best Sunday issues which has yet come to their doors.

CHURCHES TO GIVE AID FOR ARMENIANS

Campaign to Help War Victims and Starving Millions Is to Be Work of Unselfish Men and Women of Municipality

Appeals will be made tomorrow in Oakland's churches for Armenian and Syrian relief funds, and it is expected that congregations, Sunday schools and church organizations will answer the direct calls of their pastors and leaders. In the meantime, today, a vigorous campaign is being conducted throughout the business section of the city by society and club women.

Stationed at all of the principal banks, hotels and business establishments, behind tables where funds are gathered, are helping to secure the necessary funds, at the same time giving out booklet information on the plight of the unfortunate people in Asia Minor, who will benefit by the national campaign for their relief.

Heads of the women's relief committees, who have been stationed all day behind tables where funds are gathered, include: Mrs. William F. Kroll, directing the bank section; Mrs. George E. Perkins, shops and hotels; Mrs. A. S. Lavenson, head of workers in I. C. Capwell and Company's establishment; Mrs. Charles Leonard Smith, leader of the collectors in Smith Brothers', and Mrs. Irving Kahn, stationed with her assistants in Kahn Brothers' store.

Oakland's work is only a small portion of the great collection campaign being carried on throughout the nation during today and tomorrow. It is estimated that 17,000,000 Sunday school children will listen to appeals tomorrow morning, when superintendents and pastors will tell them of the need for aid. Syrians and Armenians in America are fasting today, in order that the money, usually spent for food, be given over to the relief committee.

Rev. Albert W. Palmer of Plymouth Congregational church is head of Oakland's relief work. Under his direction complete organization has been effected. Anonymous subscriptions have been handed in to the New York headquarters of the relief amounting to $100,000.

Borrowed Babe Causes Divorce

Husband Tells Court He Was Embarrassed

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—That she borrowed a babe from a poor family of the neighborhood, an endeavor to persuade her husband that it was his own child, and that he was thereby made the subject of ridicule, is one of the charges made against Mrs. Ida Soule by her husband, Gilbert R. Soule, bookkeeper for the Shell Oil Company, who began suit for divorce today.

Mrs. Soule's tendency to "prevaricate" repeatedly got him into difficulties and humiliated him, says Soule, and even when they went to get their marriage license, the wife claimed to be five years younger than she really was.

In September, 1915, Mrs. Soule brought a suit for divorce, but it was never prosecuted. Now her husband declares that he is entitled to a divorce and his complaint bristles with allegations of cruel treatment.

VILLA WITH FOLLOWERS IN BATTLE

EL PASO, Oct. 21.—That Pancho Villa and his followers had met Mexican de facto troops in a decisive battle yesterday outside of Chihuahua City was confirmed today from various sources. Agents of two United States departments made reports today that the result of the engagement was another defeat for the Carranzista forces, who were driven back in a smashing attack by the Villistas. At Carranzista military headquarters at Juarez, a brief report admitted a clash between the bandits and General Ozuena's command, but claimed a victory for the Carranzista forces. The de facto commander claimed that Martin Lopez, one of Villa's chief lieutenants, was killed in the engagement.

COAST SHIP GOES ASHORE IN DENSE FOG

Daisy Gadsby En Route to the North Wrecked in a Heavy Mist Near Golden Gate; Life Savers Stand Guard in Night

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—The steamer Daisy Gadsby was wrecked this morning on a sand bar on the coast south of Point Reyes, going ashore in a heavy fog which fringed the coast this morning and made navigation extremely difficult. The vessel is riding easily and according to a report telephoned to San Francisco by First Officer M. Parle, there is hope of getting her off without serious damage.

The life-saving crews from Point Reyes and Fort Point are standing by the wreck prepared to save the twenty-one members of the crew should the vessel begin to break up. A red-stack tug has been despatched from here and is expected to pull the ship into deep water with the aid of her own engine.

The Daisy Gadsby is 200 feet long, with a net tonnage of 478 tons. She has been engaged in the lumber trade on this coast for several years, chartered to S. S. Freeman & Company. One of the officials of the concern stated that he believed the ship was in no danger.

"The first officer telephoned us that with the aid of a tug Captain Smith believed he could easily save the ship," was his statement.

BULL PIT GO UPRealizing Brings Reactions, But Market Remains Firm.

CONCRETE evidence of the industrial development of Oakland and its environs is afforded in the actual records, not only of the building department of the east shore communities, but from the office of State Corporation Commissioner Carnahan, who issues the orders allowing stock and bond permits to industrial corporations.

Three Oakland concerns—the Pacific Paper Vessel Company, the Chevrolet Motor Company and Ceres Manufacturing Company—all actively under way in this city, have been allowed to finance themselves by the state. Three in one day from the east bay shore is a fair record for all cities in California. San Francisco has a lead over the figure, both in volume of investment and number of applications.

The actual record for today is as follows:

Pacific Paper Vessels Company—To sell 5000 shares preferred at par, $10 per share, and 5000 shares common at 80 per cent of the selling price, the proceeds to be used for the purchase of a plant to be installed in or near Oakland. The company is also permitted to issue a like number of common shares to R. V. Daniels in exchange for contracts for manufacturing rights. The permit provides that subscriptions shall be taken conditional upon the sale of 2000 shares before February 1, 1917. This will provide the minimum amount which appears to be necessary to meet payments on machinery.

Chevrolet Motor Company of California—To issue 5000 shares to its present stockholders at par, $100 per share, net the company not less than $80.

All concerns are part of the industrial life of the manufacturing zone of Oakland. The Chevrolet Company is making automobiles within a thirty-minute ride of the city hall, the Pacific Paper Vessel Company is contracting for a factory building on the estuary, and the Ceres Manufacturing Company has some time been in operation. Factories and shipbuilding yards have led all classes of investment here in the past year, and the percentage for Oakland in this sort of activity is far ahead of that of any other California city.

CARS VERY SHORT.

Railroads of the United States are suffering from the greatest shortage of cars ever experienced at this time of the year, according to figures made public in New York today. On September 30 there was a net shortage of 61,030 cars. This compares with a surplus of 131,027 cars on October 1, 1914, and of 78,399 on the corresponding date last year. The greatest shortage is in box cars, totaling 33,016, while coal and gondola cars total 19,172. The greatest shortage of box cars is in the granger states. Railroadmen say the high point of the shortage will be reached next month.

ENCALL HEARS RATE CASE.

Railroad Commission Examiner Harry A. Encall will file a report with the commission fixing water rates in the Russian river district.

C. C. Melchers, manager of the company, yesterday disclosed the following facts to Encall at a hearing in San Francisco:

The company serves water to 280 communities along the Monte Rio, which Melchers said had a population of 2500 or more in summer, running down to a very few hundred in winter.

The business as a whole is being, and always has been, conducted at a loss, which amounts last year, according to the manager, to rather more than $5000 and has never been less in any year than $1200.

The plant, according to the same authority, represents an investment of $10,412.83, with an an of rather more than $113,000, with an original cost of the original installation of $10,412.83.

The company amended its petition yesterday so as to leave the matter of what rate shall be fixed entirely to the Railroad Commission.
